- ☐ the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international preliminary examination (under Rule 55.2 and/or 55.3).

3. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application, the international preliminary examination was carried out on the basis of the sequence listing:

- ☐ contained in the international application in written form.
- ☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
- ☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in written form.
- ☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in computer readable form.
- ☐ The statement that the subsequently furnished written sequence listing does not go beyond the disclosure in the international application as filed has been furnished.
- ☐ The statement that the information recorded in computer readable form is identical to the written sequence listing has been furnished.

4. The amendments have resulted in the cancellation of:

- ☐ the description, pages:

Re Item VReasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
citations and explanations supporting such statement*1 Reference is made to the following document:

- D1: WO 02/074006 A (HARRIS NORMAN RICHARD ; HARRIS HYND LTD (GB); HYND IAN ALEXANDER (GB)) 19 September 2002 (2002-09-19)
D2: WO 03/005764 A (LACY GRAHAM KEITH ; NEWLANDS TECHNOLOGY LTD
(GB); SWAN JULIAN FRANCIS) 16 January 2003 (2003-01-16)
D3: WO 93/25053 A (BAUSCH & LOMB) 9 December 1993 (1993-12-09)

The present application does not meet the criteria of Article 33(1) PCT, because the subject-matter of claims 1-3, 7-9 and 22-30 is not new in the sense of Article 33(2) PCT and the subject-matter of claims 4-6 and 10-21 does not involve an inventive step in the sense of Article 33(3) PCT.

2 Document D1 discloses (the references in parenthesis applying to this document):2.1 Independent apparatus claim 1

"A driver assembly for a panel loudspeaker, the driver assembly comprising a voice coil, a magnet assembly (see Fig.4), a substantially rigid planar member (see Fig.4 Ref. Nr.13), and a retaining element for retaining the magnet assembly (see Fig.4 Ref. Nr.14, Page 1 L20-23) with respect to the voice coil, wherein the retaining element defines a first surface adapted to be removably coupled to a panel forming an acoustic radiator (see Page 4 L21-24), and the substantially rigid planar member is attached to the voice coil and is disposed between the voice coil and said first surface (see Page 4 L2-28, Page 5 L4-17, Claim 1)."

The use of the terms "substantially rigid planar" and "substantially rigid" does not sets sufficient limitations on the choice of the material and the shape of the construction member of the disclosed system which is connected to the voice coil.

Document D1 discloses a standard loudspeaker having a cone filled with a filling material (see D1 Page 4 L3-7) considered to be substantially rigid (for example rubber or iron see D1 page 2 L26-27) which is connected to the voice coil and is forming a "sound emitting element" having a planar surface (see Page 1 L18-21). Therefore it is considered as being the same as "a substantially rigid planar member".

Moreover, D1 is disclosing a retaining element (see Fig.4 Ref. Nr.14) which is holding the rest of the loudspeaker structure including the magnet assembly and as such it is considered as retaining the magnet assembly from the voice coil. It also defines a surface adapted to be coupled to a panel forming an acoustic radiator.

2.2 Apparatus claims 22, 25 and 26

The combination of technical features of independent claim 22 and dependent claim 25 is disclosed in the wording of claim 1. The same applies for the technical features of independent claim 26. Therefore the argumentation used in section 2.1 of the present communication also applies in this case.

2.3 Independent method claims 27 and 30

Method steps of claims 27 and 30 are corresponding to apparatus claim 1 (for argumentation concerning novelty see section 2.1 of the present communication).

- 3 Dependent claims do not contain any features which, in combination with the features of any claim to which they refer, meet the requirements of the PCT in respect of novelty and/or inventive step, see documents D2 and D3 and the corresponding passages cited in the search report.
